From Pope Francis in the encyclical Laudato Si (2015) paragraph 97&98 / presented by Social Justice Ministry of C-IHM

The Gaze of Jesus: he himself was in constant touch with nature, lending it an attention full of fondness and wonder. (...). He was far removed from philosophies which despised the body, matter and the things of the world. Such unhealthy dualisms, ... left a mark on certain Christian thinkers in the course of history and disfigured the Gospel.

SAINT MATTHEW

(d. 34 AD)

Patron of Bankers and Tax Collectors

Feast day – September 21

Matthew was a Jew who worked for the occupying Roman forces, collecting taxes from other Jews. The Romans were not scrupulous about what the “tax farmers” got for themselves. Hence they were generally hated as traitors by their fellow Jews. The Pharisees lumped them with “sinners”. So it was shocking to them to hear Jesus call such a man to be one of his intimate followers.

The Gospel tells us that “many” tax collectors and “those known as sinners” came to a dinner at Matthew’s house with Jesus. The Pharisees were still more badly shocked. What business did the supposedly great teacher have associating with such immoral people? Jesus’ answer was, “Those who are well do not need a physician, but the sick do. Go and learn the meaning of the words, ‘I desire mercy, not sacrifice.’

From such an unlikely situation, Jesus chose one of the foundations of the Church, a man others, judging from his job, thought was not holy enough for the position. But he was honest enough to admit that he was one of the sinners Jesus came to call. He was open enough to recognize truth when he saw him. “And he got up and followed him”.

After the Resurrection, Matthew preached the message of Christ in Northern Africa, and in the Middle East.

Living God’s Word

We pray for the wisdom to live justly, that is, in such a way that we keep ourselves in proper relationship with God, with each other, and with the earth. We pray for the wisdom to use our financial resources to help bring about such “just living.”
